MOTION FOR LEAVE TO SUPPLEMENT REPLY COMMENTS

Susquehanna Radio Corp. ("SRC"), by its counsel and pursuant to Section 1.45(c) of the Commission's Rules, hereby moves the Commission to accept this supplement to the "Reply Comments to Capstar TX Limited Partnership" ("Capstar Reply") and the "Reply Comments to Monroe Broadcasting Company, Inc." ("Monroe Reply"), each submitted by SRC on September 7, 1999 in the above-captioned proceeding.

The supplement consists of a letter, attached hereto, from Mr. John Munn, Town Manager of Indian Trail, North Carolina, who also sent the community's brochure, also attached. The letter verifies and expands upon the statements made by Mr. Munn in a telephone conversation with undersigned counsel, which conversation is described in paragraph 8 of the Capstar Reply and paragraph 3(3) of the Monroe Reply. The letter and the brochure were not received in time for inclusion with these filings.

This supplement contains no new information or arguments, but rather merely constitutes evidence in support of certain assertions made by SRC in the Capstar Reply and the Monroe Reply. As such, SRC respectfully requests that the Commission include this supplement in the record of this proceeding

Respectfully submitted,

Dear Ms. Salas:

My name is John Munn, and I am the Town Manager of Indian Trail, North Carolina. I am writing at the request of Susquehanna Radio Corporation ("Susquehanna") concerning that company's proposal to move a radio station into my community.

I must stress from the outset that, by writing this letter, I do not purport to endorse the commercial activities of Susquehanna in this matter, nor is it my intent to promote or favor Susquehanna in any manner. I am simply providing information about the Town of Indian Trail, and attesting to my belief that Indian Trail should be considered a separate and distinct community from other cities and towns in the area.

I have had extensive dealings and contacts with Indian Trail's residents for a long time. Based on my experiences, we consider Indian Trail to be a vibrant, growing and self-sustaining community that offers its residents access to all of the government services, commercial establishments and community activities that would be expected from a town of its size. We do not consider ourselves dependent on Charlotte for any of these essential elements of our community.

Indian Trail collects taxes from its residents, and uses those funds to provide a number of local services. These services include paying Union County in excess of $100,000 per year for the services of two deputy sheriffs who are designated to work full time within the Indian Trail town limits. As is the case in most of the communities in Union County, volunteers provide Indian Trail's fire protection. The town includes at least three (3) fire districts. This service is entirely separate from the paid firemen who serve the City of Monroe.

Indian Trail is home to a wide variety of commercial, religious and community establishments that give the town its own identity. Indian Trail's substantial business community includes everything from car dealerships and landscaping companies, to a barbershop, a hardware store and a day care center. Indian Trail is home to its own medical center, as well as clinics that provide optical and dental services. In addition, over twenty (20) churches are located in Indian Trail, including several Baptist churches, several Methodist churches, a Presbyterian church and a community of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Finally, Indian Trail is the home of wide variety of community activities. These include annual events like the Fourth of July Parade, the Indian Pow Wow, as well as more frequent meetings held by groups like the Lion and Lioness Clubs, Rotary Club, the Civil Air Patrol, and various Girl and Boy Scout Troops.

For these reasons, I can attest without reservation that I, and in my experience most other residents of Indian Trail, consider our town a separate and distinct community from both Monroe and Charlotte. Accordingly, I hope that the Federal Communications Commission will consider our town the same way.

Sincerely,

Indian Trail is among the fastest growing communities in North Carolina. The population increases with each year, creating more housing and businesses. Currently it stands at over 6,000, with plans for growth to 9,000 plus. The mayor is Larry S. Helms. There are five town council members:

Ray B. Killough, Theron Q. Kindley, Richard Privette, Ed Smith and Wayne Smith. The town manager is John Munn, Town Clerk/Tax Collector, Dale J. Starnes. Also employed by the Town is Andrea Correll and Alex Moore, Town Planners.

Indian Trail is named for the trading route that ran from Petersburg, Virginia to the Waxhaw Indian Settlement. Scotch-Irish and German Settlers moved into the area before the American Revolution. In 1874 the Seaboard Railroad was completed in the county, running from Charlotte to Monroe through Indian Trail. The railroad made it easier to get in and out of Indian Trail and made goods and services readily available. The town grew into a big farming community. Residents built the first church, Indian Trail Methodist in 1901, followed by Indian Trail Presbyterian Church in 1913.

The town became incorporated in 1907, with the city limits designated as a circle one-half mile in radius from the center of the railroad tracks. In 1912 Indian Trail's population was about 300. The town continued to grow and prosper until the Great Depression. It wasn't until the 1960's that the town began again to grow rapidly. Both people and industries began to see advantages in residing outside large cities like Charlotte.

The Indian Trail School was erected in 1923. Originally all grades were taught at this school. Now, however, the number of students has grown so much that only grades K-5 are taught. The original building still stands among the newer additions. Other elementary schools in the area are Sardis, Hemby Bridge, and Shiloh. Sun Valley Middle and Sun Valley High are the middle and high schools in the area. A private school located in the area is the Metrolina Christian Academy with the First Baptist Church of Indian Trail offering K-12 education.

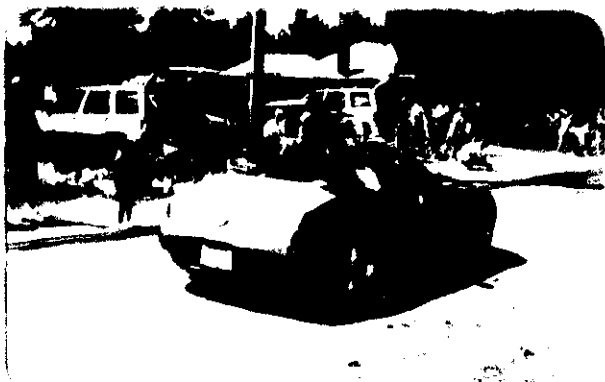

The town also has many civic clubs that made generous contributions to the community, including the Lions Club, Lioness Club, the Optimist Club, Rotary Club, The VFW and the American Legion. Also meeting at the Indian Trail Civic Building is the Girl and Boy Scouts of our community.

Law enforcement in Indian Trail is greatly enhanced by a contractual agreement with the Union County Sheriff. Under the agreement two full-time sheriff's deputies are assigned to the town. A comprehensive community policing program is being developed utilizing optimum officer visibility and maintaining the town's unusually low crime rate.

Indian Trail Presbyterian Church was built in 1916, after services were held for three years in a school building. The Rev. George T. Lashley is the current pastor.

The annual 4th of July parade is held each year with a lot of community support. Friends and family join together to enjoy the parade on a day we celebrate our country's independence.
